Analysis:

Question 1: All the output atteched with the .ipynb file. One thing i used to make the query processing fast is that i made all the documents vector as length normalized and store them in a pickle. I only had to make query vector and take a dot each time for every new query.

Question 2: All the outputs are atteched with .ipynb file.